Nineteenth Annual Conference

Medieval churches in East Anglia: new insights

Saturday 1 October 2016, 10.15 – 17.30

St Alban's Centre, Baldwins Gardens, London EC1N 7AB

The location can provide disabled access: please contact us for details

This conference brings together six speakers who have recently studied medieval East Anglian churches from a range of different angles. We hope that the day will prove stimulating both to those who already know and love the churches of the region and to those who have yet to discover them.

All are welcome. People find that our conferences combine serious intent with an enthusiastic and friendly atmosphere, and are enjoyable both for experts and those new to the topic being considered. A hot lunch is included. There will be a second-hand bookstall. Everyone is invited to finish the day with a glass of wine.

SPEAKERS (alphabetical) ❖ Matthew Champion: 'Medieval graffiti: the lost voices of England's churches'
❖ David King: 'Tracery-light glazing in Norfolk' ❖ Helen Lunnon: 'Church porch architecture in late medieval East Anglia' ❖ Michael Rimmer: 'The angel roofs of East Anglia' ❖ Robert Walker: 'The Virgin Mary roof at March, Cambridgeshire' ❖ Lucy Wrapson: 'Workshop identities and East Anglian rood screens'

COST: (incl. refreshments, hot lunch, glass of wine after) £49.50 for members & guests of the Society; £55 for non-members; £37.50 for under- & post-graduate students. Tickets are non-refundable.
